Every Vow You Break: A Novel
By Peter Swanson
(William Morrow Paperbacks, 9780062980045, $16.99, Feb. 15, Thriller)

“Peter Swanson hooked me with Eight Perfect Murders, and with Every Vow You Break it’s one of my favorites. I was enthralled from the beginning and could not put this book down. Unexpected twists and turns and an enjoyable ending. Bravo!” —Patty Reed, Ferguson Books & More, Grand Forks, ND

Libertie: A Novel
By Kaitlyn Greenidge
(Algonquin Books, 9781643752387, $16.95, Mar. 15, Historical Fiction)

“Libertie is an immersive novel and profound meditation on freedom — born free or formerly enslaved, in America, Haiti, or Liberia — while up against grief, sexism, racism, colorism, or classism. A much-needed inspiration!” —Alyssa Raymond, Copper Dog Books, Beverly, MA

A Little Devil in America: In Praise of Black Performance
By Hanif Abdurraqib
(Random House Trade Paperbacks, 9781984801203, $18, Mar. 8, Nonfiction)

“Using Black performance as an organizing principle, the book is insightful and personal. There are bits of Montaigne’s brilliance; Susan Sontag’s cultural criticism; Zadie Smith’s wizardry; and Ross Gay’s joyfulness. What a gift!” —Jeff Deutsch, Seminary Co-op Bookstore and 57th Street Books, Chicago, IL

The Lost Apothecary: A Novel
By Sarah Penner
(Park Row, 9780778311973, $17.99, Feb. 22, Historical Fiction)

“Three women, each standing at a crossroads, are linked by a small, blue apothecary bottle across timelines. Penner skillfully guides us along each of their chosen paths and their consequences. I could hardly tear to put the book down.” —Sandi Madore, Magnolia’s Bookstore, Seattle, WA

The Paris Library: A Novel
By Janet Skeslien Charles
(Atria Books, 9781982134204, $17.99, Mar. 1, Historical Fiction)

“The Paris Library brings to life the true story of the American Library in Nazi-occupied Paris. A testament to the power of literature and library places to bring people home, even during our darkest, most hopeless, and divided times.” —Alyssa Raymond, Copper Dog Books, Beverly, MA

Vera: A Novel
By Carol Edgarian
(Scribner, 9781501157530, $17.99, Mar. 1, Historical Fiction)

“Experience the 1906 San Francisco earthquake from inside the family of one of the most famous brothel madams. Edgarian combines lyrical writing with a cast of unforgettable characters, both real and imagined. I couldn’t put this down.” —Gayle Shanks, Changing Hands, Tempe, AZ

March 2022
Your Next Great Read

Indie Next List titles sold as ebooks and audiobooks at participating stores.

Copyright 2021 American Booksellers Association

Find more bookseller recommendations at indiebound.org